RUMANIA DECLARES WAR ON AUSTRIA; FIGHTING BEGINS

RAILWAY HEADS AGAIN AT THE WHITE HOUSE; WILSON HAS NEW PLAN

President Wants 8-Hour Law for Roads and Provision Similar to Canada's to Avoid Strikes.

NO HOPE OF CONGRESS ADJOURNING THIS WEEK

President Has Night Conference at Capitol With Senator Kern—Legislation Would Include Increase in Rates Equal to Advance of Employes' Pay—Also Would Enlarge Commerce Board to Handle New Tariff Schedule.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Wilson's plan for breaking the deadlock between the railroads and their employes, as discussed in conferences today, was as follows:

An eight-hour law for railroads, to become effective at a date far enough in the future to give the railroads opportunity to prepare for it.

A law patterned after the Canadian act which creates a commission of investigation and prevents lockouts or strikes
while an industrial dispute is being investigated.

This plan was discussed by the President
with his party leaders in Congress
as the basis for the next step after the railroad managers have formally announced their refusal to accept the plan of settlement the President previously proposed.

At 2:30 o'clock the subcommittee of eight executives composed of Messrs.
Holden, Ripley, Willard, Smith, Atterbury, Harrison, Trumbull and Lovett, went to the White House to confer with President Wilson. It was not then certain that they would present the formal reply to his plan in the afternoon.

Adjournment plan abandoned.
Meanwhile congressional leaders gave up hope of adjournment this week and settled down to stay here as long as necessary to provide legislation to meet the strike situation.

Senator Newlands and Commissioner Chambers of the Federal Mediation board conferred today with Acting Attorney-General Todd about the legislative program, but all denied that any legal measures for preventing a strike had been discussed.

While the President has not finally given up hope of bringing about an agreement through direct negotiations,
he is pushing forward his preparations for going before Congress with his plan
for legislation.

It was understood today that many proposals of different form have been presented to the railway executives
through the White House but that they have all been met with the statement that the railroads stood for arbitrating
the whole controversy and that the President goes before Congress probably tomorrow or Wednesday. It is said he will reveal the details of all the negotiations in his address and his plan
for legislation.

24 Left in Charge.
The four brotherhood heads, while they waited today for the next move by the executives sent President Wilson a letter explaining how the 640 representatives had gone home and left 24 men
in charge with authority to act.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon, and after his conference with the railway executives, President Wilson plans to go to the Capitol again to confer with the Democratic Steering Committee of Senators to discuss the proposed legislation.

After his conference with Todd, Senator Newlands went to the Capitol with tentative drafts of the proposed legislation and conferred with Senator Cummings, one of the Progressive Republican leaders and a member of the Interstate Commerce Committee.

Senators advised of the legislative proposals brought to the Capitol by Senator Newlands said they also included provisions that there should be no increase without first submitting them to the Interstate Commerce Commission and that authorities should be given the commission to grant an increase in railroad rates corresponding to any increase in pay that might be determined upon. It also provides enlargement of the Interstate Commerce Commission to nine members. All the proposals have been embodied in one bill.

Strike orders are being circulated for telegraphic release.
The counter proposal for arbitrating
is to be made to the President by the railway executives.

WITNESSES TELL HOW POLICEMAN'S SHOT KILLED MAN

James Gallagher, Who Fired Fatal Bullet, Refuses to Testify
at Coroner's Inquest.

INJURED YOUTH IS CALLED

He Sat in Car Behind Passenger Stain—Capt. O'Brien to Be Summoned.

The inquest started this morning into the death of Matthew Svehla, 23 years old, a baker, of 2801 B. Magnolia avenue, who was killed Saturday afternoon
in a Tower Grove car in front of police headquarters by a shot fired by Signal Officer James Gallagher at a fleeing prisoner, was continued until tomorrow morning after several witnesses had been examined.

Coroner Padberg announced that he would summon Police Capt. O'Brien of the Central District to question him about the precautions usually taken to safeguard prisoners being transported from one place to another, the evidence
this morning having disclosed that Gallagher was the only policeman guarding
three prisoners.

Fired Two Shots.
The three prisoners were being returned to police headquarters from the city dispensary, where they had been examined for the drug habit. As the patrol wagon stopped in the alley south
of police headquarters, and just east of Twelfth street, Edward De Pass, one of the prisoners, ran west, crossing Twelfth street. Gallagher pursued De Pass and fired two shots, one entering the car
which was passing the police station going south. A second passenger, Otto Burian, 17 years old, of 5425 Magnolia avenue, was wounded in the face by fragments of a bullet. De Pass was shot in the leg.

Gallagher was called to the witness stand this morning, but claimed the privilege of withholding a statement at this time. Other witnesses, including the woman who sat beside Svehla, and the motorman and conductor of the car, told how the shooting occurred. They agreed that the car, after slowing up in front of the police station to let a police man off, had reached a point that brought the front end eight or ten feet south of the alley when De Pass ran out, pursued by the policeman.

De Pass ran obliquely from the mouth of the alley toward the rear of the car.
While he was between the car and the sidewalk, fired once. This, it was thought, was the bullet which killed Svehla as he sat next to the window
in the fifth seat from the front. Burian, who testified today, was injured at the same time, as he sat next the aisle in the sixth seat, probably by the same bullet.

King of Rumania and His Premier, Who Stood for Neutrality, and Editor Who Forced Issue for Allies

Left to right: King Ferdinand, Take Jonescu and Premier Bratianu.

KING FERDINAND, being Hohenzollern and cousin to the Kaiser, has been under German influence as Premier Bratianu. They have insisted on neutrality. Jonescu, former Premier, head of the Liberal party and editor of a powerful Bucharest paper, has been

HALF-DAY TERMS WILL BE HELD IN PART OF SCHOOLS

Supt. Bewett Says Classes This Year Will Be Deplorably Overcrowded.

Half-day sessions in the elementary grades of from 15 to 30 of the public schools will be instituted at the opening of the schools next week because of the crowded conditions. Superintendent of Instruction Blewett told the Post-Dispatch today.

Classes will be conducted in the Yeat-man High School ten hours each day
and in the McKinley, Central and Bol-dan high schools eight hours because of crowded conditions in those schools, he said.

In the high schools, pupils will be admitted to classes during the coming year as early as 8:15 o'clock in the morning and classes will be instructed
as late as 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The half-days will be confined to pupils in the first grade wherever possible, although it is thought it will be necessary to institute half-day sessions
in the second and third grades of the schools where the congestion is great.

Superintendent Blewett said he expected the increase in the enrollment in the schools to be between 1000 and 1200
this year, a normal increase, which will be enough pupils to completely fill a 24-room school.

At the end of the last term of school
there were 114 portable, sheet metal schools in use in St. Louis and this number probably will be increased at the beginning of the present school year.

Yet there cannot be sufficient of them put in use to obviate the necessity of half-days in many of the other schools,
the superintendent said.

Mr. Blewett pointed out that the present condition of the schools is deplorable
and added that unless the public passed
the $2,000,000 bond issue at the special election Nov. 11, the conditions would be much worse. Failure of the bond issue to pass probably would mean the utter disorganization of the whole school system, he said.

The problem of housing the constantly increasing number of pupils has become the most important and difficult the Board of Education has to deal with.

Many changes in the various courses of study to increase the efficiency of each have been planned by the heads of the system, but they have been held in abeyance to await the outcome of the bond issue election.

The revenue of the board is ample to support the instruction department of the schools, to maintain the present high standards and allow experimenting for increased efficiency, but the drain of diverting any of the funds derived from the general revenue for the maintenance of buildings and the erection of others cannot be sustained.
Mr. Blewett said, if the schools are to continue in the leadership of the United States.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBING PART OF HUGHES' RECREATION PLANS

Nominee and Mrs. Hughes, Who Are at Estes Park, Have Had Experience in the Alps.

ESTES PARK, Colo., Aug. 28.—Charles E. Hughes today planned a long tramp
in the Colorado Rockies. Mrs. Hughes, who is an experienced mountain climber,
planned to accompany her husband.
Both Mr. and Mrs. Hughes are ardent devotees of this form of recreation and together have climbed some of the most difficult peaks in the Swiss Alps.

The nominee will remain here until Thursday for a complete rest.

NEW HOWITZER SHOTS 10 MILES

Two Regiments to Be Created, Each
With Twelve 9.5-Inch Guns.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Designs for a 9.5-inch howitzer have been virtually completed and army officers believe the gun to be a more powerful and better weapon than the 11-inch and 12-inch guns of similar type in use abroad. It will have a range of nearly 10 miles. The weapon is taken from its carriage for transportation and can be taken down drawn over virtually any road, or even over hard open ground and set up again in a short time.

It is planned to create two new heavy artillery regiments next year,
each to be equipped with 12 of the guns and eventually to have every army corps of two divisions supported by a regiment of 9.5-inch howitzers.

Two MORE PARALYSIS CASES

One Child Has Been Ill Three Months,
Doctor Reports.

Physicians today reported two new cases of infantile paralysis to the Health Department. Dr. E. W. Saunders of 4500
Olive street made a report of Baby
Spaulding, 9 months old, in care of the McCord family, Grand and French avenues, which has been ill three months.
Charles E. Hillebrand, 1 year old, 2328
Linton avenue, was reported by Dr. R.
P. Menowen of 530 Geraldine avenue, as having been ill with infantile paralysis
since Aug. 20.

These cases, which have not yet been verified by the diagnostician of the Health Department, make a total of 11
reported in the last two months.

P. J. MORRIN TO LEAVE PRISON BY WEDNESDAY

Good Behavior Rule Applies to St. Louisan, Convicted in Dynamite Plot.

Paul J. Morrin, St. Louis structural iron worker and union official, convicted in the Federal Court in Indianapolis
in the dynamiting cases, will be released from the Federal prison in Leavenworth, Kan., either tomorrow night or Wednesday morning, labor union officials in St. Louis heard today.
Morrin has served three-fourths of a three-year sentence and is entitled to freedom for good behavior.

John H. Barry, also of St. Louis, and convicted at the same time as Morrin,
will be held until next June, under a four-year sentence. Both entered the prison June 25, 1914.

Soon after the men were convicted and after Fred D. Gardner, Democratic candidate for Governor, had signed their appeal bonds, pardon applications were presented to President Wilson.

Union men obtained the support of Senators Reed and Stone; Congressman
Igoe and other members of Congress from Missouri, but they never were able to get any more definite statement than that the papers were on the President's desk.

It is expected Morrin will come to St.
Louis immediately after his release and that labor leaders here will arrange a reception for him. Mrs. Morrin is at Leavenworth to meet her husband when he steps forth a free man.

PERMANENT MILITARY TRAINING CAMP FOR WOMEN IN ST. LOUIS

It Will Be Established Shortly by Mrs.
W. E. Graces—One for Chicago.

LAKE GENEVA, Wis., Aug. 28.—Permanent schools where women may receive military and Red Cross instruction
are to be established in Chicago and St.
Louis at the close of the National Service Training School Camp here Wednesday, it was announced today.

Mrs. George A. McKillok of Chicago, who has charge of the course of instruction at the camp, announced the plan to establish a school in Chicago. The school at St. Louis will be established by Mrs. W. E. Graces, who also plans to organize a camp for the women of the South to be held next spring.

The camp here has been attended by 150 women of the Middle West for the last two weeks.

TRUCKS READY FOR LEWIS GUNS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 28.—The first contingent of 115 motor trucks
upon which to mount the Lewis machine guns has been delivered at the United States arsenal here. More than 25
trucks are to be used for this purpose.
The army has more than 300 of these machine guns, nearly all of which have been sent to the Southern Department and distributed among the troops along the border and in Mexico.

Berlin Announces Rumanians Have Been Captured on the Border of Transylvania.

WAY OPENED FOR RUSSIAN ATTACK ON BULGARIANS

Fourteenth Nation to Enter Conflict Has Army
of 580,000 and Occupies Important Position

—Long Has Coveted Bukowina
and Transylvania.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 28.—Rumania declared war on Austria-Hungary Sunday evening, it was officially announced today. Some time afterward, following a meeting of the Federal Council, it was announced that Germany had declared war on Rumania.

An announcement issued early in the day said:
"The Rumanian Government yesterday evening declared war
on Austria-Hungary."

"The Federal Council has been convoked for an immediate sitting."

Fighting between Rumanian and Teutonic troops soon followed the declaration of war, today's official announcement from the War Office indicates. The statement says: "On the frontier of Transylvania, Rumanian prisoners were taken."

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 28.—The note declaring that Rumania, from 9 o'clock Sunday evening, considered herself in a state of war with Austria-Hungary, was presented to the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister last night by the Rumanian Minister at Vienna, who personally visited the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, according to a dispatch received here today from the Austrian capital.

BERLIN EXPECTED TO DECLARE WAR ON RUMANIA

Turkey and Bulgaria Also Probably Will Act—German Federal Council Meets.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Germany probably will declare war on Rumania within 24 hours, after which Turkey and Bulgaria are expected to do likewise, according to a dispatch from The Hague to the Exchanges Telegraph Co.

The dispatch from The Hague says
the German Federal Council met this morning on receipt of the news of Rumania's declaration of war against Germany, which was made known to Germany yesterday.

The Rumanian legation in Berlin is being guarded by the police, these advices say, as stones were thrown through the windows of the Italian am-bassy in Berlin yesterday, following Italy's declaration of war against Germany.

The council consists of 19 members,
of whom it is believed

sides conferring with the Crown

rests, King Ferdinand had several days. The council consists of 19 members, of whom it is believed four to six opposed intervention. Besides conferring with the Crown
Council, with whom the final decision
rests, King Ferdinand had several days.

"At last the decisive hour has struck. Events have dictated to the Government intervention and the realization of Rumania's national alma. The King, in view of recent events, like the late King Carol, convoked the Crown Council. Iac politicians when they leave will have to bow to its decision. The union of all parties must be effected before the greatness of the cause."

The Rumanian military officials had discussed for some days what probably would be the first step taken when war was declared, and had dismissed all alien employes, many of whom were Germans. An especially large number of Germans were employed in the technical services.

Gen. Averescu, former Minister of War, it is said, will have chief command of the Rumanian army.

The Bucharest newspaper, Adevartul, commenting on the Crown Council meeting, said:

Rumania's Participation Opens Way
for Russians to Attack Bulgars

RUMANIA is the fourteenth nation
to join in the war. Her intervention either on the side of the entente allies or the central Powers has been awaited with symptoms of concern
by both since the beginning of the great conflict. This is due not entirely to Rumania's military strength, but also to the strategic advantage of her geographical position and the fact that her entry into the struggle opens to the Rumanian army a gateway through Rumania to attack the Bulgarians from the north, while the allied army having its base at Salonika attacks them and their German allies from the south.

Army Estimated at 500,000.
Nevertheless, Rumania's military strength is by no means inconsiderable.
The country has a population of 6,000,000.
Her army has been estimated at 500,000. It often has been described as one of the most thoroughly equipped and disciplined armies in Europe, but recent information from Bucharest has thrown some doubt upon its quality.
Lately it has been stated that Rumanian
officers are ill-trained and undisciplined.

Map Showing How Entrance of Rumania Into War Menaces Austria and Bulgaria

The territory shown in lighter shade is Teutonic, while that of the allies is darker. Greece, the only neutral in the Balkan region, is shown in white. Rumania hopes to get as reward for her action in joining the allies the Russian province of Bessarabia, and the Austrian Crown provinces of Transylvania and Bukovina. The population of all three is largely Rumanian. Russia is willing to give up Bessarabia for the privilege of sending armies through Rumania to attack Austria and Bulgaria and also for the privilege of sending warships up the Danube to assist in the isolation of Bulgaria.

In late years assumed more and more the aspect of a European city. It is styled "the city of enjoyment," from the fact that in the residence during a part of the year of the magistrates and great land owners of the principality, and is noted for its gaiety. During the Crimean war the city was occupied successively by the Russians, Turks and Austrians.

Rail Heads Again at White House; Wilson Has New Plan

from seven to nine members, with authority to divide into groups. A resolution stating it to be the sense of Congress that if the railroad grant a basic eight-hour day they should be entitled to increased revenues compensatory with the increased operating expenses. A bill already pending, directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to ascertain minimum, maximum and average wages paid, with hours of service, to every class of railroad employee, compared with wages of other industries in which similar skill and risk are involved to determine the relation of railroad wages to railroad revenues, and urge both sides to the present dispute to defer action pending the investigation.

The President last night made a quiet trip to the Senate office building to find Senator Kern attending a meeting of the Finance Committee. Democratic Senators who chanced to be in conference at the capitol on the revenue bill when the President unexpectedly appeared there in search of Senator Kern, were gravely concerned over the prospects and all conceded that the crisis probably would prolong the session of Congress.

When the President, after an automobile trip through the rain, reached the capitol, he asked a policeman at the door to direct him to the Finance Committee room. The policeman announced the President's arrival and Senator Kern hastily left the room.

For several minutes he talked with the President in the hall, but later they walked upstairs to the President's room after a janitor had been found to turn on the lights. The conference concluded, the President departed without consulting other Democratic leaders.

"I cannot discuss the subject of the President's visit," said Senator Kern, "further than to say that it concerned the railroad situation. The affair is so complicated, one possible development depending upon another, that I cannot discuss what is in the President's mind. Of course if the negotiations to settle the strike fail, Congress must endeavor to solve the difficulty."

gress should do in event of failure of negotiations is to enact some legislation to prevent an actual break between the railroads and the men. How this may be done I do not know, but I believe definite plans along this line are already being considered."

Congress Expected to Act. Several Senators asserted that Congress could prevent the strike, and some went so far as to say that it must prevent it, and will, but they added that public discussion about the method of accomplishing this result should wait an actual break in pending negotiations.

Senator Newlands after leaving the White House said: "I have been discussing the situation with the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and will continue to discuss it. No meeting of the committee to plan definite action is scheduled, but should negotiations fail, the committee will be called at once."

An outbreak of a strike the most serious immediate problem will be that of keeping the railroads in operation and determining how far the Federal Government should go to prevent demoralization of business and complete stagnation of commerce.

"A strike of the dimensions of that now threatened would be civil war. It is idle to ignore the fact that such a strike could not be won without force. It would be necessary for the Government to use force and to resort to military and every other agency at its disposal to offset violence and keep the road open."

"How far the Government can go in the matter of forcing operations of the roads is a serious problem for Congress to consider."

All of the brotherhood's committee men leaving Washington for their homes carried full instructions as to how to proceed in case a strike is called. Expected prominent among the printed instructions is the warning that the employees shall remain off company property once a strike is declared.

In so far as can be learned, the plan

Every Detail Is Covered. Every detail is covered in the instructions to minor officials. Especially prominent among the printed instructions is the warning that the employees shall remain off company property once a strike is declared.

cally. They thanked the men for their patience throughout the long ordeal here, urged them, if a strike came, to conduct it in an orderly manner, predicted victory in the end and warmly praised the President.

Brotherhood men leaving last night were divided in their opinion as to what the outcome would be. All of them said they were hopeful of avoiding a strike, but that they were well prepared for one if it should come. They have sufficient funds to finance a strike for some time, they said, and have no fear of the financial aspect of a walkout.

Roads Insist on Arbitration. Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, issued a statement which for the first time since the executives decided upon the course they would pursue, flatly announced that rather than give up arbitration they regarded it as better to face a strike. He declared that business would be maintained in a temporary, but probably not a permanent postponement of the strike, and that the issue of arbitration at stake in the present situation would be left unsettled.

"These in brief," continued his statement, "are the reasons why the heads of railroads, with a full appreciation of the solemn and weighty responsibility resting on them, as well as of their duty to the public and to their shareholders, have been forced to the conclusion that it is better to face the alternative of a strike than to surrender."

Rea went on to point out the history of the struggles between railroads and their employees, spoke of the depression which he said the railroads had experienced recently, and said that now, since they were having their first real touch of prosperity for several years, they were confronted with demands which would mean when followed by like demands from their other employees, an added burden of from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 a year.

Look for Public Support. "Confronted by such conditions," he concluded, "and borne down by a solemn sense of their responsibility to their employees, to business interests of all kinds, to the 100,000,000 people of the United States and to their stockholders, what could the heads of the railroads do but refuse to yield, and then calmly but resolutely face the possibilities of the situation in the full confidence that their action will receive the unqualified endorsement and support of the business interests of the country and the public at large, who have as yet been denied all opportunity to be heard."

The four brotherhood heads issued a statement replying to President Rea of the Pennsylvania, who last night made an announcement that rather than give up arbitration the roads preferred the railroad with inconsistency in that two years ago it fought the efforts of its shippers to organize and arbitrate. It also declared that as the controlling interest in five smaller roads, it has refused representation on the managers' conference committee and that if arbitration were agreed upon it would not apply to these roads.

No Night-Work Arbitration. W. G. Lee, secretary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, today issued a statement declaring that the brotherhoods had no intention of arbitrating the eight-hour work day.

"It seems evident," the statement said, "from the press reports this morning, that the railroad companies represented here are determined to force a strike rather than accept the compromise settlement offered by President Wilson."

"The organizations refuse positively to arbitrate the question of an eight-hour day," the statement continued, "because we now have an eight-hour day in effect on many of the Southern and Southwestern roads, and do not propose to arbitrate whether we shall retain something that we have had for years and that we secured peacefully."

"The railways' former claim that our request would cost $100,000,000 has been split 50-50, and we are reminded of the statement 'that figures won't lie,' but 'liars will figure.' Now full well that the eight-hour day as offered by President Wilson would not cost $20,000,000 per annum if properly applied."

"We are still the guests of President Wilson and will remain here."

Brotherhood Suspects Three Spies Are Among Their Number. WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—After the last meeting of the representatives of railroad brotherhoods, here in session considering strike plans, it developed that the men have suspected for several days that they had three spies among them who were reporting regu-

W. D. SIMMONS OFFERS TO JOIN QUARTERMASTERS' RESERVE

Writes He Will Be Glad to Give His Experience to the Government.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Speedy response has been made by the business men of the Middle West to invitations to become members of the Quartermasters of Reserve Corps of the army. Col. Daniel E. McCarthy, Quartermaster of the Central Department, announced today.

W. D. Simmons of St. Louis, president of a large hardware company, wrote that he would "be glad to give my service and experience to the Government." Col. McCarthy said that he would recommend that a board of examiners be formed here to examine and enlist the men in the reserve. Replies endorsing the movement, he said, are being received from business men of fourteen states comprising the Central Department.

Wallace D. Simmons, president of the Simmons Hardware Co., was out of the city today, and his secretary said he did not know of the correspondence mentioned in the Chicago dispatch.

WOMAN REPORTS LOSS OF DIAMONDS VALUED AT $4000

Milliner Says Box Which Disappeared When She Was on Page Car Also Contained Cash.

Miss Mabel Palmer, a milliner of Chicago, this morning notified the United Railways that she had lost on a Page avenue car near King's highway a small black box containing diamonds valued by her at $4000 and $370 in currency. She is a sister of Mrs. Alexander Brandt of 3024 A. Page boulevard.

Mrs. Brandt's 12-year-old son, Bernard, told reporters that his aunt came to St. Louis yesterday and stopped at the Lodge Hotel, Belt and Eitel avenue. This morning, after talking with the Brandt children, she boarded a car to go down town. She left the car after it had proceeded only a block and ran back crying that she had lost her diamonds.

Later at the Finney avenue car sheds she identified a conductor as the man who had taken the box. He said he had not seen her package.

WHEAT MARKET DEMORALIZED

Chicago Futures Close at Bottom, 9% to 11% Cents Down.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Rumania's entrance into the war caused a severe drop in prices in the wheat market today. Prices closed demoralized, 9% to 11% cents net, lower with September at $1.40 to $1.40, and December at $1.45 to $1.45, the extreme break of the season.

News that actual fighting between the Rumanians and the Teutons had already begun accompanied the final downturn in prices, and made the trading at the finish a frantic whirl of excitement.

Early to the railroad heads. In some mysterious manner, reports of the secret meetings of the brotherhoods have been reaching the railroad executives' headquarters within a short time after they have adjourned each day.

Often these reports were in the hands of persons at the executives' headquarters before the brotherhood officials had left their hall.

Careful investigation convinced the brotherhood officials that they knew the trio and several speeches and reports were "planted" for them in the meetings. As the union leaders had expected, these reports soon reached the executives. In the subsequent meetings the alleged spies were upbraided roundly by several speakers, but they never were named.

WAR DECLARATION BY ITALY RECEIVED CALMLY IN BERLIN

Newspapers Take View That Action of Rome Government Is Unimportant.

BERLIN, Aug. 28, by wireless to Sayville.—The following official announcement was made here yesterday: "The Italian Government has declared through the Swiss Government that it considers itself from Aug. 23, at war with Germany."

Virtually all the morning papers, with the notable exception of the Vorwaerts, comment on Italy's declaration of war against Germany.

The Deutsche Tages Zeitung declares that interest in such a declaration all ways has been exceptionally small in Germany and now, without question, will continue so.

The Morgan Post calls Italy's action an empty gesture, intended to appear heroic but actually tragic-comical, and to be received with an indifferent shrug of the shoulders.

The Krug Zeitung says Italy finally has given way to the pressure of "its master."

The Post sees only another evidence of Italy's "blackmail politics."

Italy's war declaration was made public yesterday afternoon in the customary extra editions of the Sunday newspapers, which give the official war reports. Life crowds read the declaration unemotionally and then continued the usual Sunday strolls.

The official Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung sounds the key-note of press comment, taking the position that Italy's formal declaration of war will have but little effect in view of the existing conditions.

All the editorials were written prior to the receipt of information regarding Rumania's declaration of war on Austria-Hungary, and almost without exception the newspapers expressed hope that Italy's action would not force Rumania into the conflict.

RUMANIA'S QUEEN 'WIDELY KNOWN AS 'MADCAP PRINCESS'

Gambling and Flirting Escapades Basis of More Than One Court Scandal.

Since King Ferdinand and Queen Marie were placed on the throne of Rumania in October, 1914, soon after the European war began, it generally has been predicted that eventually Rumania would join in the conflict on the side of the allies.

The late King Charles openly sympathized with Germany. He was a Hohenzollern. His nephew, Prince Ferdinand, shared his uncle's sympathies in the conflict, but the people of Rumania are almost unanimous in their sympathy for Russia, and in their hatred for Austria. Queen Marie is a niece of Edward VII of England, and a granddaughter of Alexander II of Russia.

King Is Not Popular. The King is not popular with his subjects. At the time of his accession to the throne it was felt that only by joining with the allies could he regain favor with the people.

The King is 51 years old, and the Queen is 40. They have five children, Crown Prince Charles, 20 years old; Prince Nicholas, Princess Elisabeth, 19; Princess Marie, 14, and Princess Ileana, 8 years old.

The Queen long has been a conspicuous figure in European royalty, and her inclination to flirtations has made her the inspiration of more than one court scandal. Her marriage to Prince Ferdinand was arranged purely for political reasons, and it has been court gossip that, though she finally came to love her husband, he did not love her.

Prince Ferdinand cared for Helen Varesco, maid of honor to Queen Elisabeth. The Queen encouraged the match, and the Prince was ready to renounce his claim to the throne to wed her, but the King and his Minister would not hear to it. They sent him to England, where he met Princess Marie and a marriage with her was arranged for him.

Known as "Madcap Princess." Soon after Princess Marie went to Bucharest, she became known as the "Madcap Princess," because of inclination to gambling and her many escapades. She was an enthusiastic horsewoman and an accomplished card player. She found that the women of the Rumanian court knew nothing of these pleasures and she set about to teach them. She made frequent trips to Nice, Cannes, Monte Carlo and Vienna, and mingled with the swift set of those fashionable places.

She is devoted to her children. This has pleased the people and has enabled her to overcome much of the criticism and dislike of her which grew out of her indiscreet pranks.

Officials Say Water Is Safe. At a conference in the office of Mayor Kiel today, at which the Mayor told Water Commissioner Wall, Hospital Commissioner Shutt, Assistant Health Commissioner Jordan and City Engineer Baldwin he "wanted the truth and nothing but the truth about the condition of St. Louis' water," all of the officials agreed that there is no danger of typhoid from the use of the city water.

Commissioner Wall said colon bacilli have not been found in sufficient numbers to warrant the belief that the water is polluted or contains typhoid germs.

SURVIVAL OF THE PUREST CIGARETTE PURITY PROVED IN BLACK AND WHITE

Sweet Caporal is the only cigarette to survive the test of forty years on the market and remain a national favorite, steadily gaining in popularity. Because for four decades the cigarette industry has been unable to produce a better cigarette. Sweet Caporal is the purest cigarette that can be made—without a trace of tobacco flavor that has never been duplicated in any other cigarette at any price.

Smokers who watch the interesting Sweet Caporal demonstration are shown something different. The demonstrators burn some ordinary paper for them, which saves a black ash. Then burn Sweet Caporal—paper—the purest and finest of the high-grade, imported French cigarette paper.

Thus before their eyes smokers have the proof of Sweet Caporal's purity in black and white. The demonstrators explain that this is a remarkable record of this famous original cigarette. American smokers everywhere love for the same reason the purity of Sweet Caporal.

Attention even inside-light city; the of before good old cigarette—because it has been a star cigarette since it was first introduced. This all day of smoking the actual work. "I am tired from my work," says a man who produces. "This pure white ash means a pure white ash." "The pure white ash means a pure white ash." "The pure white ash means a pure white ash."

AMONG BALL PLAYERS. No other cigarette enjoys the wide popularity of Sweet Caporal. Hundreds of big league stars play "Sweet," because their purity insures wholesome enjoyment. Baseball and Sweet Caporal have been national favorites for four decades.

"GOOD OLD SWEETS." That is the name by which Sweet Caporal cigarettes are affectionately known to millions of smokers.

W. C. CABANNE GETS
$50,000 JOB; ONCE
$10-A-WEEK ACTOR

Member of Old St. Louis Family Gets a New Position as Mo-

HERE ON HIS WAY EAST

Without Job in New York Six Years Ago, Entered "Movies"
and Rose Rapidly.

William Christy Cabanne, member of one of St. Louis' oldest families, had been a $10-a-week "ham actor" at Suburban Garden when he set out for New York City, six years ago, to hunt for a job. He was then 22 years old. Today he returned to St. Louis, on his way from Los Angeles to New York,
and in his pocket was a contract with the Quality Pictures Corporation for a salary of $50,000 a year as a motion picture director, besides an agreement to pay a $1000 bonus for each five-reel production produced by him within 90 days.
Cabanne thinks he is the youngest man in the United States making a $50-000 salary. He told the interesting story of his rapid rise to a Post-Dispatch reporter today.

Out of Work in New York.
"It was in fact only 'part of the scenar-
y on the Suburban Garden stage," Cabanne said. "I had mostly a 'thinking part.' Hattie Williams had been starting at Suburban Garden, and I went to New York in the expectation of landing a small part in her new play.
It never was produced, and in my search for a job on Broadway I had spent all the money my father had given me. I had to sell part of my clothes."

"One day on Broadway I met Edwin August, a St. Louis, who then was starring in pictures for D. N. Griffith, producer of 'The Birth of a Nation.'
I was down to my last dollar. August introduced me to Griffith, who invited me
to visit, on the next day, a location at Fort Lee, on the Hudson River, where August was being filmed as the hero
in a play."

"In one of the scenes the hero had to rescue a girl and swim the Hudson. It was November, and the river was icy cold. For such tasks as these a substitute usually is hired. Griffith called for volunteers, offering $10 to any man who would swim the river. I volunteered."

"They made me up to resemble the hero, and I jumped into the river and rescued a dummy figure resembling a heroine."

"Griffith did not offer me a place in his studies. He had thought I had plenty of money, and was only in New York for a lark. The $10 I had earned swimming the Hudson lasted me 10 days.
Then I asked for a job. I got a guarantee of three days' work a week, at $5
a day."

"Then I tried writing scenarios. My first 12 scenarios were rejected as unfit.
The thirteenth, called 'A Chance Deception,' was accepted. I got $25 for it.
Since then I have written more than 200
scenarios, and all of them were produced."

"At last I had found work that pleased me. That always had been my biggest problem—finding something to do that I liked to do. When 17 years old my father had had me enlist in the navy. I was in the West Indies a year, and then was honorably discharged because of a 'flat foot.' I came back to St. Louis and spent my time, and father's money,
on roller skates at the Jal Alai rink."

"But to get back to the Griffith studios, which were then called the Bio-graph, I became Griffith's 'office boy,'
and made myself so useful by running his errands and supervising things that heeded his attention that I became an assistant to him. This enabled me to study closely, for two years, Griffith's method of directing photoplay productions."

Gets Chance to Direct Plays.
"Mr. Griffith now and then let me direct the taking of certain scenes in his photoplays. My work was so successful that, four years ago, I began directing the making of photoplays. The first year at this I made about $5,000,
the second $10,000, the third $20,000, and
last year my salary and bonuses totaled $28,000."

"A few weeks ago Fred J. Balshofer,
the pioneer in the motion picture game,
made me an offer to direct the 'Metro' photoplays. We settled on a salary of $1000 a week and I shall work only 50
weeks a year."

"My first task will be the direction of a 28-reel serial, in 14 episodes of two reels each, in which Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne will be the photoplay stars. I must produce one episode each week."

"This is no cinch. It means working all day long supervising the erection of scenery, approving locations, rehearing the cast, and finally directing the actual work of filming the scenes."
"I am the only director in motion pictures who has consistently averaged one production of five reels each month.
This perhaps is one of the biggest reasons why I have just signed a $50,000 contract."

Quick work in making a picture means a big saving to the producer in the total salaries of actors and actresses employed in making a film.
"The production of a five-reel picture
requires from a month to seven weeks.
Five thousand feet of film are used,
and it is run off in picture houses in one hour and 25 minutes. I rehearse
a scene five times a day for three days before we use the camera."
Cabanne was asked what he believed was the future of motion pictures.
Believes in Shorter Films.
"I believe that the photoplays of the future will be either 10 reels long or two reels long. Gradually we are going to get down to two-reel pictures, instead of five. It will mean the elimination of junk features and of melodrama. The public wants clean, beautiful things."
Producers have been taking an old

St. Louisan Who Is to Be "Movie"
Director at $50,000 a Year

WILLIAM CHRISTY CABANNE.

Idea and giving it a new twist. An old story, for instance, is rewritten to fit the part. The public is becoming educated to pictures, and now they are beginning to anticipate each scene that is to follow.

"It is not the plot that will count. It must be characterization. We must present characters that are lovable and scenes that are artistic and entertaining."

"Stars who pose in beautiful surroundings, and never act, are placing dynamite under their motion picture careers."

Trouble With Censors.
"Our biggest fight," Cabanne said, "is against censorship. Producers who continue blood-and-thunder melodramas are putting ace cards in the censors' hands.
Box dramas are produced on the stage,
and children hear the spoken words.
But objection is made to such ideas on films. But have the censors stopped to think that to illuminate the bright side
of virtue we must show the dark side
of evil?"

"Censorship, as it exists today, with censors in many small cities, is unfair. The Motion Picture Board of Trade first should make censorship rules of its own, and the passing of a picture by the National Board of Censorship, which is quite liberal in its views, should be sufficient, without long-haired critics in small towns taking a hand."

Cabanne spent the day visiting his brothers and sisters in St. Louis. He was born in St. Louis, and is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sargy Carr Cab-anne. He is a descendant of Pierre Lacled, the founder of St. Louis, and was named for his great-great-grandfather,
Maj. William Christy, who fought in the War of 1812. He is married, his wife having been Miss Vivien Montrose of New York. They have two daughters, one 3 years old and the other 18 months
old. Mrs. Cabanne, with the children, will join him in New York after the infantile paralysis epidemic is over.

JUDGE RENEWS
MEDIATION OFFER
IN MILK STRIKE

Dairy Lawyer Gives Court No Encouragement When Injunction Petition Comes Up.

Circuit Judge Anderson renewed his offer of arbitration in the milk wagon
drivers' strike, when the injunction suit of the St. Louis Dairy Co., against the strikers and their union officials, came up before him this morning. The company asked that the men be restrained from picketing its establishments, or interfering with its employees or customers.

The Judge expressed his disappointment that the dairy proprietors had not made a definite reply to his offer of arbitration, made from the bench Saturday. He said he was willing either to serve as arbitrator himself, or to appoint a committee of arbitrators.

William R. Schneider, attorney for the dairy company, then said he would not encourage the Court to prolong the proceedings further, in any hope that the dairymen would accept an arbitration plan. He said the dairymen would not in his opinion, consider arbitration before a decision should be rendered in the injunction case. It was agreed by the Court and the lawyers that the injunction case should be heard tomorrow morning, when both sides will have witnesses on hand. The Graefen Dairy Co. injunction suit, also set for tomorrow, will give way to the St. Louis Dairy Co. case.

$15 a Week Maximum Offer.
Schneider said to reporters that the dairymen felt their recent offer of a wage scale of $15 a week and 2 per cent commission on all sales, represented the limit of what they could grant. He said an arbitrator or arbitrators, though acting in the best faith, might make a mistake of 1 or 2 per cent, which would change the dairy business from a money-making to a money-losing enterprise.

More retail delivery wagons were sent out this morning, according to dairy proprietors, than on any day since the strike began Aug. 8. The Pevely Co.
sent out four wagons on the South Side, and said the number would be increased tomorrow. The St. Louis Dairy Co. sent out three wagons in the West End.

Henry A. Clover of 4420 Lindell boulevard, former prosecuting attorney,
made a talk on his front lawn, at 9:30
yesterday morning, to a crowd of strikers, who were going ahead of a St.
Louis Dairy Co. wagon, asking householders not to take milk.

He said to the men that they were following a wrong method, and that their manner, and their considerable number, gave the impression of intimidating. He suggested that if one or two men visited each house and made their request in a courteous manner, they would be in less danger, as he put it, of losing the friends they might still have. He said it was very objectionable to property owners in that vicinity to have parties of men running over their lawns.
The men, Clover said afterward, seemed to take his advice in a friendly spirit.

Bottles Hurlled at Doctor.
Dr. Clyde P. Dyer of 2139 Nebraska avenue, was bombarded with milk bottles yesterday morning when he went to a dairy on Russell avenue, between California and Iowa avenues, for milk for family use. Ten men surrounded the machine and took several empty bottles from the tonneau. Dyer protested and the bottles were hurled at him. Policemen arrested Stephen Held of 2313 South Seventh street, and Louis Eumert of 228 Menard street. They denied having had part in the trouble.

HOUGH'S CLAIM AGAINST FRISCO
FOR $1,037,368 IS ALLOWED

Master in Chancery Finds Sale of Four Short Railroad Lines
Was Valid.

Thomas T. Fauntleroy, master in chancery in the Frisco Railroad re-ceivership, today submitted to the United States Circuit Court a report, allowing Louis Houck of Cape Girardeau and the St. Louis Union Trust Co. of St.
Louis $1,037,368 on account of the bonds
of the Cape Girardeau & Northern Railroad. The bonds originally were issued to Houck in part payment for four short railroad lines which he had built in Southeast Missouri. The lines extended from Farmington to the Thebes bridge.

The Frisco, in 1912, bought the lines and agreed to form a new company to take them over and operate them. After the Frisco failure, the receivers refused to recognize the validity of the purchase of the Houck lines because the purchase
had not been approved by the stockholders. The Frisco agreed to guarantee the interest and the payment of the principal of the bonds which Houck accepted in payment.

Fauntleroy holds that the contract between the Frisco and Houck was valid, and that the Frisco is liable according to the terms of the contract.

HEAD OF CHICAGO SCHOOLS
HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Paris (Ill.) Banker and Editor Also Seriously Injured When Car Turns Over Near Danville.

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 28.—John D.
Shoop, Superintendent of Schools of Chicago, is in a hospital here, as a result of an automobile turning over at Woodward Station, a few miles south of Danville, at 8 o'clock
last night. McFarren Davis, for 25 years editor of the Paris (Ill.) Beacon, is near death at Paris with a fractured skull and left ear badly lacerated. He is not expected to live through the day.
The right shoulder of F. E. Hager of Paris, cashier of the Edgar County Bank, was crushed, his jaw was broken and he is injured internally. He will recover.

Dr. E. E. Jones, the driver of the automobile, was slightly bruised about the body. Arnold Shoop, son of the superintendent, was uninjured.
Mr. Shoop came here on an electric car, unassisted. The attending physician said he could not determine the full extent of the educator's injuries but hoped for recovery. His collar bone is broken.

KILLED BY AN ACCIDENT

Verdict Blames No One for Death of Fred Koelling.

The Coroner's jury this morning returned a verdict of accident in the death of Fred Koelling, a tinner, 27 years old,
of 410 Lexington avenue, who died in the city hospital at 10:45 o'clock Saturday night from injuries received on Saturday morning when he fell from a roof
earlier when a northbound Sarah street car struck him at Fair avenue and Sarah street.

According to several persons who passed immediately after the accident occurred the street lighting at that point was very poor.

PRESIDENT WILSON WRITES ON OPPORTUNITIES FOR
U. S. AT END OF THE WAR

Also Tells in Magazine Article the Lessons That Have Been Taught to America by the Great Conflict.

In the September issue of the General
Federation Magazine, President Wilson
writes on the opportunities of America
after the war and what the war has taught the United States, as follows:
"No one can doubt that the immediate future of the world will be crowded with quick changes. Every true lover of America must wish the United States to play a part in those changes which will be worthy of her ideals and her character. Almost alone among the great nations of the world she will be unhindered in meeting a great opportunity."

"In the first place, her resources are unimpaired. Not only has the war and all its attendant circumstances made no harmful drain upon her men or her materials; it has even enhanced her skill and added to her resources, because of the very circumstances of her situation,
cut off from her usual trade with many parts of the world and called upon to supply what she never supplied before,
to the nations engaged in the great struggle not only, but also to her own people."

"She has developed industries that she had before neglected, has found new uses for her material and new material to use. She has thus been enabled to realize what she can do more fully than ever before, and to do it better than she ever did before. No other nation will stand quite so ready as she to serve the world in every work of peace and development."

Opportunities for Financiers.
"In the second place, she will probably of necessity be the chief reliance
of the rest of the world in the field of finance. Probably the chief part in supplying the means necessary for the great reconstruction which will have to follow the war will fall to her. When the war began America was striking
the large balances, a debtor nation.
When the war closes, she will be a creditor of all the world. Her financiers will have it within their choice to play
a part they have never played before in the economic development of other nations and of distant regions of the earth. It is to be hoped that they will have the vision to accept the opportunity with far-sighted courage and a quick adaptation to the new conditions."

"In the third place, I think it is evident that the United States will understand herself better than she ever did before. The war and all its attendant circumstances have cried her wide awake to both the dangers of her life
and its enormous possibilities and advantages. There have been many things to disturb us during these two years of long-drawn-out tragedy. We had not realized before that there were certain elements in our citizenship which had not in their heart of hearts devoted themselves in full loyalty and allegiance
to the country of their adoption."

"A new problem of disunion, more subtle, more difficult to meet with direct

20 REVELERS IN EDEN PARK FIGHT
DEPUTY SHERIFF

Bottles, Clubs and Pistols Used in Struggle at Meramec Highlands Resort.

Sunday night revelry at Eden Park, Meramec Highlands, resulted in an attack by about 20 men on Deputy Sheriff William Wenom, in which clubs and bottles were used and two shots were fired by a private watchman who went to Wenom's assistance.

Wenom says the men who attacked him were drunk. There have been many complaints about Sunday drunkenness
at the place, which is conducted by Peter Gounis, although he has no liquor license. Prosecuting Attorney Ralph said today that it was remarkable that the county officers could not obtain evidence of illegal sale of intoxicants and declared that he would have the grand jury begin an investigation as soon as it meets on Sept. 18.

A suit is pending to close the place as a nuisance and two informations have been filed against Peter and Percy Gounis, charging them with selling liquor without a license. These informations were based on his discovery
that unlabeled bottles filled with amber fluid, delivered in "near-beer" cases at the Eden Park had tin caps on which was stamped the word "Alpenbrau."

Wenom was called at 10 o'clock last night to Autenrieth's place, near Eden Park, on account of a fight. It was over when he reached Autenrieth's, but there was a commotion at Eden Park.
He went there and found that a man
had thrown a bottle into a crowd.
Wenom ordered him to leave the place
and he struck at Wenom, who knocked him down with his stick. The man's friends attacked Wenom. He backed toward the wall of the dance hall, battling with his stick until it was splintered. He was struck with a chair and a bottle.

When the private watchman fired two shots the fight stopped. The man who had caused it had disappeared.
Wenom understood that the men who attacked him were from Brentwood.

A Brentwood man who was accompanied by his wife apologized to Wenom for the attack and said it was due to the beer the men had been drinking. When this man was on his way home on an electric car he was attacked and knocked from the car.
There was another general fight on a street car.

CHILDREN TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT TO AID BABIES TONIGHT

Dancing for Older Persons to Feature Benefit for Post-Dispatch Fund.

CONTRIBUTIONS. Previously acknowledged... $2819.73

The current week should bring a substantial reduction of the unfavorable difference between the size of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund this season as compared with last, and lift it to a height that presents more of promise for the outcome of the campaign as measured by the positive demand upon it. If the babies in the congested districts of the city are to be carried safely over the perilous summer and early fall periods they must be amply provided with pure milk and free ice.

These must be paid for, and to pay for them is the mission of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund, the record of which for a dozen years has been one of steadily lowering the infant mortality of St. Louis. It is a work in which the children have been the standard bearers as well as the first-line fighters. The Fund should be increased by more than $2000 if the end and aim of the unselfish organization is to be accomplished.

The interesting event for this evening, in so far as the Post-Dispatch has been advised, is that to take place on the lawn of Mrs. H. S. Lipscomb's residence, 1456 Goodfellow avenue. For weeks eight of the cleverest and prettiest children in that neighborhood have been rounding out the details of an entertainment in which songs, dances and recitations are to be the features, coached by Mrs. Lipscomb. Following the program, the older persons in attendance are to have the privilege of completing an evening of pleasure by dancing.

Joseph, Helen and John Ward of 2820 St. Louis avenue, and Gertrude and Elster Copeland of 3824 St. Louis avenue, mindful of the peril surrounding the tenement district babies if deprived of pure milk and free ice, went earnestly to work to reinforce the fund to supply those vital necessities, the result of their effort being an addition of $1.45.

Disposition of two cakes by three youthful workers for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund yielded $6, each cake bringing $1. Walter Vincent Rohan of 3835 De Giverville avenue, Virginia Lee Roosevelt of 3830 De Giverville, and Catherine Elizabeth Pape of 3750 De Giverville avenue, devoted their time to the sale of the cakes, which were baked by Miss Hoevel, Mrs. Albert Hubbard of 3832 De Giverville avenue and Mrs. Davis of 727 Walton avenue, obtained them.

Singing, dancing and recitations, all being given with marked youthful charm, were the features of a program arranged for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund, which was productive of $1.65. Martha Branch of 3055 Dickson street, and Alice and Raymond Tannenbaum of 3038 Dickson, were the entertainers. George and Myrtle Nettleton of 247 Lucky street and Roy Gamache of 4045 Lucky were the principals in a successful carnival for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund, which was given at the Nettleton home last Monday night. It yielded $1.37 for the fund.

"The Burglar Alarm," a highly meritorious sketch, was excellently interpreted for the benefit of the poor babies at the home of Grace, Amy and Ethel Wall, 948 Catalpa street. Tuesday night, and yielded $1.25. The rear yard was used for the affair and was decorated with flags, while the special stage was illuminated by electric lights. The children completed a picture of distinct beauty in their handsome costumes. The program follows:

Miss Martha... Ethel Wall
Miss Mary... Amy Wall
Bridge... Grace Wall
The Fairy... Ruth McWilliams
Fairy Dance... Ruth McWilliams
Miscellaneous numbers as follows completed the program:
Hall, St. Louis... Ruth McWilliams
Every Evening... Ruth McWilliams
The cast of the play follows:

Butterfly Dance—
Amy Ethel Grace Wall and Mary Baker
Recitation—Ruth McWilliams
Song—Silver Moon... Ethel Wall
Song—Good-by, Girls... Ruth McWilliams
Mary Baker resides at 938 Catalpa street and Ruth McWilliams at 953 Catalpa.

HUSBAND CHARGED WITH MURDER OF SUFFRAGE LEADER

Coroner's Jury at Washington, W. Va., Found That Physician "Probably" Killed His Wife.

WASHINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 28.—Dr. Oliver A. Howard is under arrest, charged with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Frances Robertson Howard, a prominent woman suffragist and a leader in civic and club activities. She came of a distinguished Virginia family and formerly was head nurse at the Washington Hospital. Dr. Howard was a physician at the hospital. In a few months after their marriage there were rumors that the couple did not agree.

Mrs. Howard attended a woman suffrage meeting, Aug. 15, made a speech, and returned home in apparently good spirits. Witnesses say she arrived home about 6 o'clock and that her husband came a few minutes later. He soon ran out, calling for another doctor. He said his wife was unconscious from some drug and asked for a strychnine injection to revive her.

When Dr. J. W. Price arrived Mrs. Howard was dead. Her clothing was disarranged, and there were marks on her neck and nose. Her husband declared he had found her locked in a room, lying on a bed. He said he stopped her face in an effort to revive her, and when this failed went for another physician.

The undertaker testified Mrs. Howard's neck seemed to be broken. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that Mrs. Howard had come to her death from a dislocation of the neck, and that "with the evidence produced before us there is probable cause to believe that the said act of violence was committed at the hands of Oliver A. Howard." Dr. Howard declares he is innocent.

AMERICAN FLAG RESTORED TO THE TRANSPACIFIC SERVICE

Battleship and Quarantine Steamer Escort the Ecuador Out of Golden Gate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—The American flag was restored to the trans-Pacific service yesterday when the Pacific Mail liner Ecuador took its departure for the Far East with more than 1000 tons of freight and a full complement of passengers. The significance of the occasion was recognized by the Government and the battleship Oregon and the United States quarantine steamer Argonaut accompanied the liner through the Golden Gate.

The Ecuador is one of three vessels purchased by the Pacific Mail Co. for this service and it was indicated by officials of the company there will be added at least three more large passenger liners.

RECOMMENDS USE OF BLOOD SERUM IN PARALYSIS CASES

Dr. Simon Flexner Writes That Experiments Show It to Be Effective.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Serum manufactured from human blood is recommended in treatment of persons afflicted with infantile paralysis, in the opinion of Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research. Dr. Flexner has recommended the treatment to the members of the American Medical Association, the largest organized body of physicians in the world.

Dr. Flexner's views and the facts he has adduced are embodied in an article contributed to the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Effective in Monkeys.
The experimental evidence in favor of this treatment shows that if a serum prepared from the blood of monkeys which have had the disease is injected into healthy monkeys, they either cannot acquire infantile paralysis when an effort is made to infect them with it, or, if they do contract it, the severity of the ailment is modified to the extent that the onset of the inevitable paralysis is delayed. Sometimes the treatment arrests the paralysis in the midst of its progress.

Dr. Flexner comments upon the report of Dr. A. Netter, who put the treatment to the test in the course of a practice. Dr. Netter, in making the serum, used the blood of patients who had entirely recovered from infantile paralysis. An interesting and significant feature of his work, it is said, is the fact that one of the persons who donated blood for this purpose had had the disease 30 years prior to its use as a life-saving agent. This demonstrates, according to modern medical teaching, that the immunity conferred upon this person by the disease 30 years before had lasted throughout this long period, because the agents, or "anti-bodies," which originated in the blood when the invading germs attacked him, had remained on duty to repel a possible second invasion.

Dr. Flexner gives the necessary condition of the serum and says that doses of from five to 20 cubic centimeters probably would be found to be about right. The injections should be repeated several times, at 24-hour intervals, according to the clinical conditions and indications.

Encouraging results in the fight against the paralysis were indicated by the Department of Health's report for the 24 hours ending at 10 a. m. today. Only 43 new cases were discovered, or only a little more than half the number during the previous 24 hours. The greatest decrease was in Brooklyn, where the disease first became widespread. The deaths numbered 25, against 21 yesterday, making the total fatalities 1856 out of 7339 cases reported to date.

CLUB CLOSED AFTER MURDER

Manager of Fifth Precinct Democratic Club Arrested Three Times.

The Fifth Precinct Democratic Club, 197 North Twelfth street, where Prizefighter Jack O'Brien was shot to death a week ago, was closed yesterday. Ben Getzler of 1211 Pine street, the manager, opened the place as usual at midnight Saturday and was promptly arrested on "suspicion of selling liquor without a license." He was released on bond and tried twice more to open the club, being arrested each time.

The police also kept the Century Social Club, 26 North Twelfth street, closed yesterday. The club had twice arrested the manager, Hugh Sweeney, 825 Chestnut street, he made no further effort to do business.

Tribute to Prelate's Memory.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 28.—Three hundred children of Peoria's parochial schools knelt in St. Mary's Cathedral here this morning to pay solemn tribute to the memory of Archbishop John Lancaster Spalding, who died last Friday afternoon. Funeral services for the dead prelate will be held at the cathedral at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

MEN WHO PASSED EFFICIENCY TEST FIRED FROM WORKHOUSE

Guards Say Dismissal Is Due to Politics and Not for Alleged "Inefficiency."

George M. Karp and Edward F. Schiera, guards at the workhouse, were dismissed Saturday by Superintendent Primavesi, who stated in the letters dismissing them that the reason was "inefficiency." In examinations conducted by the Efficiency Board less than a year ago Karp made a grade of 97.9 and Schiera a grade of 95.9.

They visited the city hall this morning in company with Alderman John Pett, and told in several offices that they were convinced the real reason for their dismissal was that both voted against John E. Swanger for the Republican nomination for Governor, and against the Kiel-Schmoll candidate in the Eleventh Ward for member of the Republican City Committee.

ATTACKING FLEET'S WORK EASY

Rear Admiral Knight Says Defenders' Scout Force Was Inadequate.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 28.—The war game just completed by the United States navy proved that under fairly favorable weather conditions, an attacking fleet has an excellent chance to land troops within 20 miles of New York. Rear Admiral Austin Knight declares. Nothing of this sort would have been possible, he said, "if the defending 'blue' fleet had had an efficient scouting force."

Rear Admiral Knight, in the game which ended in the virtual annihilation of the "blue" or defending fleet, arrived last night on the battleship Pennsylvania of the victorious "red" fleet, which represented the invading enemy.

RETURN FROM NAVY WAR GAME

Civilian Crews to Have Target Practice.

NORFOLK, Aug. 28.—Nine ships of the "Blue" defending fleet, theoretically destroyed by an invading fleet in the Navy war game, arrived in Hampton Roads yesterday. They will proceed to Tangier Sound, Chesapeake Bay, tomorrow, to give the civilian training crews target practice. The vessels are the battleship Virginia, New Jersey, Maine, Kentucky, Louisiana, Alabama, Illinois, Kearsarge and Rhode Island.

The civilian volunteers are being weeded out and those especially fit for the service have been appointed petty officers.

YOUR special attention is called to our present showing of Inlaid and Printed Linoleums.

So broad is the variety of designs and colors that we do not hesitate to say that we can meet all requirements.

Imported English Rugs

As surprising as it may be, you will now find on display—here—a most beautiful and complete assortment of fine Imported English Rugs. We urge that you inspect these at an early date, as duplication will be impossible this year.

Fine American-Made Rugs

New Fall designs and color effects in Anglo-Persian, Anglo-Indian, Ardabil, Karach, Kirman, Royal Worcester, Bigelow Bagdad, Royal Iran—in fact, a splendid representation from all of the leading mills of America.

An Excellent Variety of New Cretonnes Now on Display

We have been very fortunate in receiving an early shipment of Cretonnes for Fall, including a splendid assortment of all of the newest weaves, such as—Tuscan Tapestry, Art Crash, Empire Taffeta, Elwood Chintz, Essex Rep, Baronet Cloth, and many others.

The colorings and designs are especially beautiful and the variety is so large that you can make a selection for any requirement in draperies—for the living room, dining room, palm room, chambers, etc., as well as for cushions, upholstery and slip-covers. Prices 15c to $1.25

NOTE—Our Cretonne Section has been moved to the Southeast corner of the Drapery Shop—a location which affords selection by daylight.

A New Pattern in Silverware

Our Silverware Shop is now showing the new Sheffield pattern—a Sheffield reproduction—in a complete service, and we invite every housewife to avail herself of the first opportunity to see this beautiful ware.

NATIONAL G. A. R. CONVENTION OPENS IN KANSAS CITY

Meeting Place and Streets Decked With Flags for Encampment of Veterans.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 28.—With the calling to order this morning of the Executive Committee of the National Council of Administration, the fortieth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic was opened. Immediately following was the session of the Committee on Credentials. Meetings of the Woman's Relief Corps and of the other allied organizations of the G. A. R. are scheduled throughout the day at their headquarters in the different hotels. Convention Hall, where the meetings of the encampment will be held, is decorated for the aged but light-spirited, through which flocked in to register at the circle of booths which surround the arena, allotted to the different army units. Little knots of veterans formed before the various headquarters as each new arrival entered and was greeted by comrades.

Many Signal Flags Used. Street decorations have been made more varied and doubly effective by the loan of several hundred signal flags by the Navy Department. These flags are strung on ropes and flutter across the streets high overhead. Veterans continue arriving on every train. Troops of Boy Scouts are piloting their aged "comrades" to their hotels, while Kansas City as a whole is seeing that no comfort is lacking.

STEAM SUBMARINES UNDER CONSTRUCTION IN EUROPE

New Submarines With 25-Knot Speed Closely Resemble Type Rejected by American Navy Board.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Steam submarines are under construction in Europe closely resembling the 25-knot boats designed by the department a year ago, to meet requirements of a speed of at least 20 knots an hour and if possible of 25 knots. No private builder would undertake the construction of the craft, being unable to find sufficient horsepower in oil engines to give the boats the required speed. Eighteen knots is the maximum in the German and British navies.

Department experts had prepared the alternative design in which steam turbines supplied power for surface operations. The general board disapproved the design on the ground that the necessity of taking down a smokestack would make the boats slow to submerge and easy prey for enemy destroyers.

Prompt, careful and expert repair work at fair prices is bringing lots of orders to our factory. Hoss & Culbertson, Seventh and St. Charles.

Two Bathers Drowned.
SANDUSKY, Aug. 28.—Robert Tracy, 25 years old, and John Ryan, 18, were drowned and Cecilia and Mary Canning were rescued with difficulty when bathing in Sandusky Bay here yesterday afternoon.

SUPREME COURT DOCKET IS 1000 CASES BEHIND

Committee on Hastening Missouri Trials Finds St. Louis Court 600 Cases Behind.

The delay of three to 10 years in the determination of litigation in the Supreme Court of Missouri has become intolerable, in the opinion of the special committee on Legislation Remedial Procedure of the Missouri Bar Association, comprised of one lawyer from each congressional district. Judge David H. Harris of Fulton is chairman of the committee. The committee found that only the Supreme Court and the St. Louis Court of Appeals were far behind in their dockets, and that there is little complaint of delay in the trial of cases in the Circuit Courts, except in some instances in St. Louis and Kansas City. The Supreme Court is 1000 cases behind and the St. Louis Court of Appeals 600 cases behind. The Supreme Court, even if the volume of appeals should not increase, and with the commissioners aiding it, could not catch up with its docket within 15 years, according to the report.

The committee recommended that three commissioners be appointed for the St. Louis Court of Appeals, for a period of two years. With the aid of the commissioners the committee believes the court could catch up with its docket in two years.

The committee found the principal reasons for the congested condition of the Supreme Court docket to be the increased volume of business, long records and briefs, increasing number of extraordinary remedial writs and the fact that judges do not write as many opinions a year as formerly.

The committee says there is much complaint of long opinions by the court, and suggests that the employment of stenographers is a temptation to the judges to string out their opinions.

Many of the remedies can be had only by constitutional amendment, according to the committee, but as it has been almost impossible to get amendments adopted, the committee recommends that the Bar Association continue its work of trying to get a new Constitution for the State.

KAISER HOLDS UP SENTENCES

Execution of Penalties on Prisoners Delayed Until After War.

BERLIN, Aug. 28 (by wireless to Sayville).—An official statement issued here says: "The German Emperor has ordered postponement until after the war of the execution of all sentences imposed for the punishment of French prisoners, both civilian and military, on account of acts committed up to Sept. 1, of this year."

The Overseas News Agency adds: "The newspapers state that this action was taken as a result of a reciprocal agreement with the French Government."

BERLIN, Aug. 28, by wireless to Sayville.—"Telegrams from Rotterdam say the British Government has announced to the Dutch Government that since the middle of August all British merchant ships are being armed," says the Overseas News Agency. "Ship captains have received from the British admiralty strict orders to use their armament on the high seas against all ships of enemy countries, but to respect neutral waters."

MEAT INSPECTORS MOVE HERE

Bureau of Animal Industry in Federal Building, Eighth and Olive.

The Bureau of Animal Industry, a branch of the United States Department of Agriculture, whose object is the inspection of all meats, meat products and ingredients, has moved its office from East St. Louis to the Federal Building, Eighth and Olive streets, St. Louis.

The department examines between 6000 and 7000 samples a year and its operations include all of the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama and parts of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and Florida.

YOUTHFUL ROBBERS GET $74

Hand Man Card After Holding Him Up.

Two boyish-looking highwaymen, smoking cigarettes, held up Joseph Vogler of 3113 South Broadway on Mary avenue near Broadway in Carondelet about 1 a. m. yesterday. They took $74 from him and handed him a card on which was printed:

"White Mask—and then, flourishing their vicious artillery, and curling their jet black mustaches, they betrayed their gold teeth in a sardonic grin and fled."

Capt. Replice to President.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 28.—Emperor Nicholas has replied to the message sent last month by President Wilson to the heads of European Governments, urging their co-operation in measures to make possible the forwarding of food supplies to the starving people of Poland. The Emperor assured the President of his willingness to co-operate as far as possible in the plan.

Address by Director Tolkein. Director of Public Welfare Tolkein will tell on "Public Welfare" at the Business Men's League luncheon, 12:30 p. m. tomorrow, at the Mercantile Club.

MEN ACCUSED OF PLANNING TO KIDNAP YOUNG HARRIMAN

Men, It Is Said, Plotted to Hold Railroad Man's Son for Big Ransom.

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 28.—Three men, said by St. Anthony (Idaho) authorities to have been implicated in a plot to abduct Roland Harriman, 16-year-old son of Mrs. E. H. Harriman, widow of the railroad man, and hold him for a heavy ransom in the Idaho mountains, were arrested last night at St. Anthony, according to word received here. Two of the men, Mark A. Lufkin and Davis McLoey, are alleged to have confessed to the St. Anthony Chief of Police, but the third man, Ralph Cusell, denied any knowledge of the alleged abduction plot. Mrs. Harriman and Cusell, it was said, were to have arrived at their ranch on the upper Snake River about Aug. 18, but postponed their Western

CHECK CHARGE AGAINST DENTIST

Dr. Edward E. Gates, 28 years old, a dentist of Carlinville, Ill., was taken there yesterday to answer a charge of passing worthless checks. His arrest was caused by Miss Margaret Saale, a stenographer at the Surgical Supply Depot, 619 Olive street, to whom he gave a check for $25. She communicated by long distance telephone with the bank at Carlinville on which the check was drawn and was told that the paper was worthless, then trailed Gates to a sanitarium, where she called a policeman.

Gates carried a valise in which the police found a quantity of morphine and several hypodermic needles. He was given treatment at the city hospital. He waived extradition.

WOULD-BE BRIDE WHO IS HELD BY POLICE

MISS ORLEAN WRIGHT.

POLICE AT UNION STATION INTERRUPT MARRIAGE PLANS

They Take Girl From Nashville and Young Man Into Custody at Her Mother's Request.

Hope for a happy outcome of his romance of a lifetime was expressed this morning by Marshall Goll, 21 years old, of Nashville, Tenn., whose wedding plans were interrupted yesterday afternoon when policemen took him in custody at Union Station, together with his fiancée, who had just arrived from Nashville. He said he would talk today to the girl's relatives when they arrive and try to reach an understanding.

The girl, Miss Orlean Wright, whose mother wired the police that she is 19 years old, was held last night at the matron's room at police headquarters. She said her mother objected to her marrying Goll because he is poor, and has picked out for her a wealthier Nashville man.

Goll came here three weeks ago and got a job with a wholesale drug house. He has been living at 3522 Washington avenue. He was released yesterday when the girl's mother wired that she did not care to prosecute him.

DANIELS REVIEWS ADMINISTRATION'S WORK FOR NAVY

In a Letter the Secretary Tells How U. S. Dropped Behind Other Nations.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—A review of what the Wilson administration has done for the navy is given in a long letter from Secretary Daniels to Representative William Eliza Williams, Democrat of Illinois, made public by the Navy Department. Representative Williams wrote to the Secretary recently asking a series of questions in which he said his constituents were particularly interested.

As to how and when the navy lost rank among the greater nations of the world, the Secretary quotes the general board as saying that, based on displacement of ships built, the United States advanced to second place in 1907 and lost it to Germany in 1911.

The way had been paved in 1906, he says, when President Roosevelt and Secretary Bonaparte recommended the construction of only one capital ship.

Reports were pigeonholed. He drew attention to the fact that in 1903 and thereafter the general board recommended three battleships and says these reports always were pigeonholed, until he gave them to the public by attaching them to his report.

The personnel, the Secretary said advanced to second place in 1908, dropped to third in 1911, fourth in 1914 and to sixth in 1916 after the European belligerents increased their personnel to war footing.

Capt. Sims is quoted as saying target practice fell off between 1909 and 1913 and during the practice it came up about 40 per cent.

Rear Admiral Fletcher is credited with the statement that recent practices were at 15,000 and 18,000 yards, the longest ranges at which firing has occurred in the present war, and "it is believed that scores recorded are higher than ever before in the open sea."

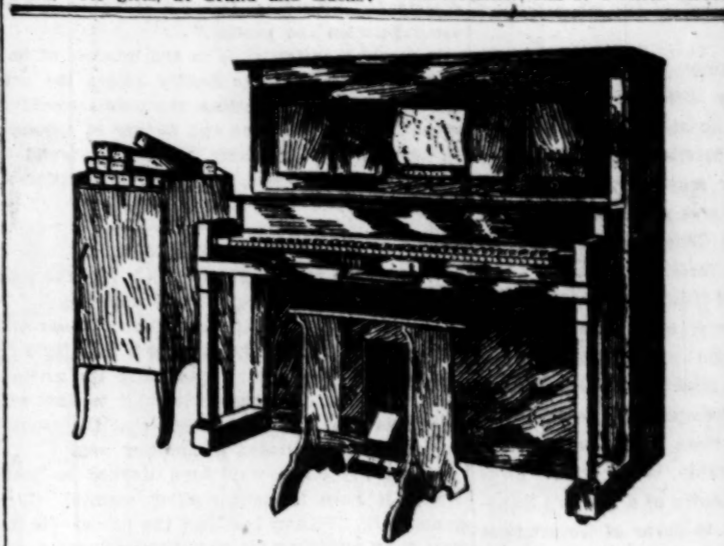

In the matter of construction the letter carries a table showing 55 vessels ($33,192,938) appropriated for during the last Roosevelt administration, 65 ($127,742,112) under Taft and 121 ($55,289,906) during three years of Wilson's administration. Attention also is directed to the continuing program adopted.

Increasing the Personnel.

The Secretary outlines what has been accomplished toward increasing the personnel, remedying the shortage of officers, opening the way for promotion of enlisted men, departmental reorganization and the mobilization of industries through the Naval Consulting Board.

Particular attention is called to the authorization for government armor plate and projectile factories, the making of powder at decreased cost in navy plants, a four-fold increase in mines manufactured at home instead of abroad, an increase of 40 per cent in torpedo supply, the equipment of navy yards to build capital ships and the increase of wages at navy yards.

NOTICE TO EMPLOYEES OF THE PEVELY DAIRY COMPANY

We Announce a Meeting at Our Main Plant on Grand and Chouteau Avenues

Tuesday, Aug. 29 at 4 P. M.

And Invite All Employees to Attend

Drivers will be invited to return to their positions at the scale of wages paid in the past, which, according to Mr. Thomas F. Barr, as quoted in Post-Dispatch of Aug. 11th, is the

HIGHEST SCALE OF WAGES PAID BY ANY DAIRY IN ST. LOUIS

Extract from Post-Dispatch, Friday, Aug. 11:—

A Post-Dispatch reporter asked Thomas F. Barr, business agent of the Drivers' Union, to comment on this statement. Barr said he had learned, from the locked-out drivers of the Pevely company, that the list of wages paid was approximately correct.

Barr said the Pevely company paid its men more than the other dairies.

To the Public:

It is the desire of this company to deal fairly with its employees—in return we also should be dealt fairly with—the motto of the Pevely Company is and ever will be "Live and Let Live."

We appreciate very highly the consideration shown us by our friends and patrons during this trouble, and assure you we are making every effort to supply you with milk with the least possible inconvenience.

Grocers and Butchers in various parts of the city are now handling Pevely milk. We suggest that you ring up your dealer and ask for it.

Respectfully Submitted,

BOY SHOT IN EYE WITH A PIN

Physicians at City Hospital Hope to Save Sight.

George Sicking, 16 years old, of 1013 Ann avenue, a messenger, was struck in the eye by a pin shot from a rubber band by Joseph Seemayer, 14 years old, of 544 Janet avenue, Saturday afternoon. At the city hospital this morning physicians said the pin had not punctured the iris and that the sight of the eye probably would be saved.

In the account of the occurrence published in the Post-Dispatch yesterday the names of the boys were transposed, making it appear that Sicking had shot the pin at Seemayer.

VILLISTAS CAPTURE A TOWN

Carranza Garrison Forced to Evacuate Sateo, Chihuahua. CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mex., Aug. 28.—Three hundred Villa bandits captured the town of Sateo, Chihuahua, 10 miles south of here, Friday, according to reports to Gen. Jacinto Trevino. The outlaws, under Uribe Arango and Martin Lopez, surrounded the town, and after a six-hour battle the garrison, numbering 300 under Capt. De la Fuente, being without ammunition, was forced to evacuate. Villa was not reported with the outlaws.

The dispatches, which came from Gen. Elisonson, said both the bandits and Government troops lost heavily. The garrison withdrew to the hills.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Disloyalty to America.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Alphonse G. Koebler, president of the United German Societies, speaking before the American Federation of Catholic Societies, declared:

"We have been accused of being false to the flag—the flag by which we bled and died."

"This reference, of course, to the President's attack upon what are now termed the hyphenates."

The trouble with Koebler is his lack of comprehension of the terms "loyalty to the flag." He does not understand what these terms mean to a true American citizen.

Treason or disloyalty to one's flag is either moral or criminal. Moral treason is a state of the mind, while criminal treason is the outward manifestation of moral treason.

In our late Civil War the copperheads of the North were vigorously denounced as moral traitors and many of them imprisoned for disloyalty because they sympathized with the South and rejoiced over her victories. This was merely because of their mental attitude toward the Government of the United States. Maximilian Hardin has been exiled from Germany because of moral treason. If the copperheads had joined the Confederacy or had given it "aid and comfort" they would have been guilty of criminal treason.

The Constitution of the United States declares that criminal treason "shall consist only in levying war against them, in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort." Under this definition every citizen whose heart and moral sympathies are against his country when assailed by a foreign Power is a traitor. But our law does not punish this character of treason. This is not so, however, for the reason that such a mental attitude is not treason, but because of the great danger of opening the door to persecution.

The Constitution, therefore, wisely provides that "no person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court."

Loyalty to our country does not consist alone of merely refraining from the commission of some "overt act" of treason, but in resisting in one's heart any hostile or unfriendly act of a foreign Power designed to violate the laws of our country or the rights of its people. And the laws of nations are a part of the laws of our country, which all the nations of the earth ought to respect.

The wholesale and intentional destruction by a foreign Power of the lives of innocent American men, women and children, while in the lawful exercise of their legal and moral rights, is inherently an attack upon our country and its sovereignty, and any American who fails to comprehend it as such is simply in sympathy with the offending nation, and hence the offense against his country has his moral sanction. In short, he is a moral traitor.

If such a mental attitude does not constitute disloyalty and moral treason then those terms mean nothing. So, when the President speaks of disloyalty of some of our German-American citizens he has this mental attitude in mind.

The American view, as maintained by the President, is that these lawless acts of Germany should have solidified the country against the German army, while it is generally believed that the sympathy of many German-Americans has been with Germany in her destruction of innocent American lives and against their adopted country. A true American of German birth or German descent would resent and denounce Germany for sinking the Lusitania while the fact is that many of them have actually applauded it or apologized for it. The American people of non-German stock have felt outraged over Germany's slaughter of American citizens, and justly so. Let our German-American friends analyze this issue of "loyalty" raised by the President and they will understand better his position on the matter.

A TRUE AMERICAN.

A Milk Strike Suggestion.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Early this morning I witnessed a sight that seemed to me absolutely un-American and a disgrace to our city government—a milk wagon driven down Cassien avenue making deliveries of milk to houses on both sides of the street. On the sidewalks were a crowd of strikers, probably 50 to 75 in number. The driver of the wagon and the man making the deliveries of milk were escorted by a Sergeant of Police, with 10 to 15 policemen on foot, a patrol wagon of policemen and an automobile full of what I judge were strike-breakers, as I heard one of them say to the milk deliverer, "Go make your deliveries, we will stand back of you."

Here is a fight between the employer and the employee and the general public is the sufferer. The Mayor is the head of our city government and we have the police as a protection against the destruction of life and property. Now why don't the Mayor and the President of the Board of Police Commissioners take a hand in the game by appointing a committee of five, unbiased men to look into the merits of the case, then enforce their findings if it takes the entire police force of the city to do it.

WHAT MAY HAPPEN.

While there may be doubt as to the mode in which the Government may exercise its powers of control over interstate railroad corporations and the precise limit of its farthest extension, there is no doubt that these powers are very great. Under the interstate commerce and general welfare clauses of the Constitution, Congress can go far to protect the public from injury through the failure of private owners of railroads to operate them. It might regulate the conditions of labor on the railroads.

The railroad corporations hold relations with the Government wholly different from private corporations. They are quasi-public corporations, chartered with special privileges and powers to serve the public. They must serve the public whether they can do so at a profit or not. They must move trains. The Government can compel service at a penalty of forfeiting charters. Undoubtedly in the event of failure to serve the Government would have power to operate trains.

When President Wilson warned the railroad presidents that a strike might mean Government ownership of railroads he spoke the sober truth. A majority of the American people unquestionably favor private ownership, but if private ownership permits the breakdown of a nation's transportation the sentiment in favor of Government ownership and operation will soon become irresistible. Government may be clumsy and extravagant, but it usually manages to get the thing done, and the American people are always ready to accept it as a choice of evils.

As for the union leaders, they are building up an argument in favor of compulsory incorporation and public regulation of labor organizations which they can easily make unanswerable. A nothing-to-arbitrate policy arouses the resentment of the American people, and while the railroad presidents are not square in their professed devotion to arbitration, the union leaders are taking the attitude that nothing must be won by arbitration which can be gained by brute force.

In the event of a strike the crisis may be something more than a vast struggle between railroad employers and employees. It may mean a revolution in Government control of railroads. It may mean wholly changed relations between the Government and the railroads which will put an end to the power of any group of financiers or railroad managers to threaten the prosperous activities of the people and their welfare. It may eliminate altogether private control of interstate railroads.

On the other hand, it may deprive the railroad organizations of their power to strike. Out of a strike might come compulsory incorporation and arbitration with labor disputes thrown into court to be settled by law instead of war and brute force. Government control would mean wages and hours fixed by the Government.

In threatening the industrial and commercial life of the nation the railroad presidents and the trainmen do not realize the possible consequences; they are playing with fire.

It is no time for obstinacy.

ONE YEAR MORE.

The Svenska Tidnings reports that the Russian orders for materials and merchandise, originally placed for September delivery this year, have been altered for delivery next June.

At the same time comes an inspired article in the Novoe Vremya announcing the decision of the Russian Government to duplicate the munition order of 1916 to Japan. Russia has further agent a considerable order for equipment and munitions to Japan for Serbia and Montenegro for immediate delivery, a certain quantity each month until next May. Says the Novoe Vremya:

All this goes to show that Russia sees the end of hostilities by the end of next May, or the first week of June, 1917. Add to this that Great Britain has just placed munition orders for next spring, and that Italy has duplicated her spring order of this year for the spring of 1917 it would appear that other nations seem in consensus about the terms of the war. Moreover the Essen (Krupp) factories are working with three shifts of men, a fact which clearly indicates that "futures" are being gotten out.

The fact mentioned by the Berliner Tageblatt that 486,000 men of the 1918 class have been called to arms in Germany and are being drilled for next spring service points in the same direction; and when the Allgemeine Zeitung sums up the present allies' offensive with the evidently inspired words: "Wait a bit: Germany is not through," and the entrance of Rumania, which, it was admitted on all sides, would enter the war six months before its conclusion, the Kreuz Zeitung seems to have good foundation for its prediction of the end next spring or summer. Says the Amsterdam Courant:

How the various armies will weather a third winter, God only knows. Even last winter the limit of endurance seemed several times to have been reached; and it was only bulldog tenacity that held the post.

TO PREVENT SUDDEN STRIKES.

A bill is to be introduced in the Board of Aldermen the object of which is to prevent sudden strikes or lockouts. It is based upon the Canadian act, compelling an investigation, with publicity of the findings of the commission, and prohibiting a strike or lockout pending the conclusion of the investigation.

The proposed ordinance provides for a commission to be known as the Industrial Disputes Commission.

This commission is authorized to "invite" employers and wage earners to state the causes of the dispute, but they are not required to do so under oath. When they have told their troubles, if they consent to do so, the commission is to render a decision, make a report, and file a copy of it with the Register of the City of St. Louis. Or, if the parties do not consent to state their complaints, the commission is to investigate as best it can and then render its decision and file its report.

The clause which would probably impel disputants to come before the commission is that which provides that, whenever the parties are notified, "the employer shall not thereafter discharge such employee, and the employee shall not thereafter strike or quit such employment, pending the investigation by said commission, but such employment shall remain in force and effect during such investigation pending a thorough consideration of all the facts and circumstances attending the grievance or controversy between the parties."

It would manifestly be to the interest of both parties to a dispute to testify before the commission. In the meantime, the public would be saved the inconvenience and danger of a sudden strike, and the publicity might, as found to be the case in Canada, bring about a settlement without further trouble.

FACTS VS. GUESSES.

We like the results but we don't like the manner in which the results were obtained.

This is practically the attitude of those who are trying to find in Mr. Hughes a substitute for President Wilson. It is practically the attitude of Mr. Hughes. He has little fault to find with results as they stand but insists that they should have been accomplished in another way.

Would the other way have worked as well? Would it have brought similar results? It is guess work. Wilson has kept the peace. He has kept it by attaining his ends through reason and appeal to justice. The country is prosperous. Conditions are stable on account of peaceful conditions and wise legislation.

Do the people want to repudiate the man who has accomplished what they want through peaceful means for a man who alleges that he could have accomplished the same results by different methods? Do they want to exchange a sound working policy for an experiment?

Should there be a great strike, the opportunity for freight aeroplanes may begin.

SALOONS VS. MOVIES.

Without much publicity, there is a small war going on between the saloons and the cinemas, which is being fostered by certain temperance leaders. The liquor interests see in the movie theater the strongest competitor with the saloon, not only because it furnishes a cheap and attractive method of spending an evening, but because, it is charged, the managers of picture plays and makers of films invariably "cater to the conventional morality of the mob" by scenes in which saloons are shown only as dens of iniquity and centers of lawlessness and disorder.

On the one hand, managers of moving picture shows in Washington and Oregon, who have recently joined the Prohibition states, find that their business has been very largely increased by the closing of the saloons. On the other, authorities like Mayor Gill of Seattle, assert that the films, with their emphasis of the worst saloon element, have been the means of influencing the people of these states to vote for Prohibition.

The situation is an example of the ease with which the average person goes to extremes. Both forms of entertainment have their good points and also their faults. In the long run, we shall probably see the best of each combined in some sort of showhouse where, as in the London music hall, one may eat and drink and watch the play go on.

VACATION.

By Charlotte Bumbold.

Vacation is the time when the beer income, whether measured in money or opportunity, yields to the champagne taste.

This thing of "resting" belongs with those middle aged, safety first maxims that are appealing on drizzly days and Monday mornings. It has nothing to do with vacation.

It is no vacation when one leaves the city because it is good for one's efficiency or health or something else as uninteresting. It is like giving a boy a dollar for Christmas and putting it in the savings bank for him. Vacation time is the time to go take the thing you want to the limit of your money, time and opportunity.

Many a farmer's wife ought to take her vacation changing places with the traffic officer at Sixth and Olive. If she were run over at least she wouldn't end her life in the insane asylum as she so often does now.

Many a wife and mother ought to send husband and children to a hyper-sanitized, house-physician and trained-nursed summer resort while she takes her vacation in getting some good out of the home she spends her life keeping so well. She could have her breakfast in bed regardless of school at 9 o'clock, and, for once, regardless of family diets, she could have what she herself wanted to eat. She could catch up in her reading, and be marveled and manured and massaged, and if she had a headache she needn't smile and say she hadn't.

Many a school teacher would teach more understandingly next winter if instead of taking Chautauqua lectures or summer university courses to get another degree, she would spend twice over her vacation allowance on the board walk of Atlantic City.

As for the social worker she ought to borrow the family jewels and chiffons and go visit her college friend who has never ridden in a street car since she married a millionaire. There is nothing like a course of gold-soup-platte dinners to teach the social worker how the other half lives.

The dressmaker, milliner and department store buyer ought to flee to the woods and make camp, cook, fish and hunt in wind and storm and have their ideas readjusted as to what clothes were invented for.

What's the odds if at the end of the vacation one's little pile of savings is a hole and one's inconsiderate body has "gone and gained" 10 pounds—or lost them—if the world has fallen into a new perspective, the little worries have dropped to the background where they belong, and the big things stand out splendid and worth fighting for?

That is a good vacation.

IN THE NAME OF EROS.

A YEAR ago
I did not know you lived.
Six months ago
We met.
Your eyes affected my heart—
They gave it a sort of neuralgia.
I became
A sighing, trembling half-imbecile.
In church
I could not pray
For watching you.
I dreaded the exquisite torture
Of calling you up on the phone.
And O, that terrible moment
Between my ring
At the door bell
And your coming!
I wrote love-letters and sickening
Verse to you.
(Even worse than this.)

Yesterday,
Vaguely puzzled,
I walked down the street.
I had just passed you.
When I reached the third corner
I suddenly remembered
Where I had seen you before.

SOME BOSTON ENGLISH.

DISCUSSING one of those subjects which delight the hair-splitting philosophers of that deep-thinking community, the Boston Herald says:

And what does he know of the real purpose of diverted units of a class in undergoing (under law), this or that modification, with a purpose ostensibly frustrated when compared with the otherwise actualized purpose of other units of the same class, in the same order of phenomena? A substance by its evolution or transition into another form is precluded by metaphysical necessity from existing simultaneously as a third different form by the law of identity. A thing is itself, not something else. Are we then to say that God has had his final or absolute purpose frustrated because the given substance in its transition (which can only occur under His law), did not take on a form of being expected by you or which it might have taken on by virtue of its potential capacity and if other laws and forces had been applied? Clearly the answer is "No."

Isn't that "clearly" good? Think of anything put in just that way being clear, or anyone but a Bostonian having any idea what the answer is.

Notwithstanding Col. Roosevelt's statement at the City Club last June that we are not going to elect a viceroys of the Kaiser in the United States next fall, Mr. Hughes has just been endorsed by another Verein.

Mr. Rumsey says he is not sure that he might not sometime become a candidate for Mayor. No such uncertainty attaches to what most of us are going to do if he does.

Come, Hughes! What should the President do now?

SOUL GRAPES.

HE is a stinging millionaire.

I wish that I was him.

He gets the dollars foul or fair,

I wish that I was him.

He owns some palaces and yachts;

I wish that I was him.

He built a lake in which to swim;

I wish that I was him.

He owns some houses and some lots—

I wish that I was him.

He owns some lawyers and a court,

I wish that I was him.

He robs the poor and calls it sport,

I wish that I was him.

He has his yellow stacks of gold:

I wish that I was him.

He has his servants gaunt and grim:

Golly! How I hate that fellow!

Yet—I wish that I was him.

He owns a dozen railroad tracks,

I wish that I was him.

He dodges all his income tax,

I wish that I was him.

He's gobbled half the wine in France,

He fills his glasses to the brim.

He'd steal the patches off your pants.

Yet—I wish that I was him.

Heaven, Ok.

YAB KIRRAH,

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

BEAUTY CULTURE.

BETH—There is nothing to be done in cold or warm weather. Wash the face in cold water, lay in soft waves and use a piece of cotton. After it has passed the comb lightly through the waves when perfectly dry and the hair will remain as long as desired.

HEALTH HINTS.

SUFFERER—Hay fever is not considered contagious.

A. K.—Continued too long, and soda would be injurious; bicarbonate of soda is safer.

OBLIGE—Tubercle bacilli, or other bacteria, may cause enlargement of neck glands. May disappear if continuing to absorb bacilli. Talk with doctor.

O.—The doctors probably did what they could for you. Chloroform treatment (at drug store) is good, but we cannot say that any ointment will cure you.

WORRIED—Many are relieved of their symptoms due to too much thyroid secretion. Sometimes they are better, because they get accustomed to their dose of thyroid secretion. Sometimes the gland secretes less; sometimes medical treatment cures. Sometimes nothing cures except an operation. When operation should be done, and when it is too late for operation are questions that can only be answered after a careful study of the individual case. Can be best advised available and abide by it.—Dr. Evans in Courier-Journal.

MISSOURIAN—For bronchitis, Florida and the mountains of Carolina. Georgia have been recommended. For chronic, this has been recommended. For acute abdominal breathing (deep breathing), sponge the neck, chest, back and arms to the waistline with warm water night and morning; follow by a brisk rubbing with a rough towel. Take capsules of cod liver oil (Eucosote (3 minims) three times daily two hours after meals for two months; also take the following: Dr. Strophanth 10 oz.; tr. nucis vom. 2 oz. M. Sig. Twelve drops in half-glass of water before each meal.

J. C. K.—An ingrowing toe nail expert writes: It is not tight shoes, not loose shoes, nor anything else, but it is cutting the nail and cutting it short that causes ingrowing nail. No one ever saw a long toe nail that was ingrowing. Suppose both corners are buried in overlying flesh. Under such circumstances should one pry out the corners and poke under them wadding, lute or other extraneous matter? Not at all. Cut out the sharp ingrowing corners, just enough to keep them from continually digging into the flesh, but do not cut the end of the nail. Remember the nail must grow long, clear out to the end of the toe. Let the nail grow out and the corners and lateral edges will lift themselves out themselves. Also says: The only permanent cure for ingrowing nail is to have the nail removed.

LAW POINTS.

K.—Wages of a son cannot be attached to collect debt incurred by mother.

SUNDAY—Law forbids working child under 16 more than 4 hours a week, or more than 8 hours a day.

B. R.—If title to real estate is vested solely in a husband, and he dies, his wife has no claim, or anything to say in selling the property, after her mother's death.

M. S.—If childless husband wills his property to his wife, and so words the will that there is no question of his meaning, and the will is according to law, neither his father, mother or sisters can get anything.

G. A.—We know of no law recently passed in reference to a collection agency, unless you mean the act prohibiting anyone from doing business or representing any person in a legal capacity and obtaining a fee, unless admitted to the bar.

SMALL TAXPAYER.—It is not in the law, but it is in the spirit of the law. If a person is not "directly" connected property owner in the district is not liable for special tax and cannot be assessed. If a person is not "directly" connected with the district and therefore liable for your proportion of the cost.

F. R.—The notice, if served on him at the office, is good, and will bind him, having been served on the last day. Rent being due on 15th, day, rent owner or agent's demand, for special tax and assessment, without further notice, vacate at end of month (September).

CHICAGOAN.—City ordinance allows merchants and manufacturers to occupy with their wares 18 inches of the sidewalk, where the walk is 18 feet or less in width; 24 inches if more than 18 feet in width. While not permitted to remain more than 18 hours, and if half the walk is kept clear for pedestrians.

MRS. P. B. (Illinois).—The will of your husband left governs, and he has no claim or interest. The will of your husband should be filed with Probate Clerk and his name added as trustee of your husband's estate. The will of your husband should be filed with Probate Clerk and his name added as trustee of your husband's estate. The will of your husband should be filed with Probate Clerk and his name added as trustee of your husband's estate.

M. L.—Mere separation does not matter. You may file claim for his pension if he has deserted you, and you are in necessitous circumstances. If wife dies with or without a husband, her estate is not liable for her debts, and she is entitled to her share of the estate for life. This he can dispose of as he sees fit, and he is not bound to take possession and a purchaser's interest ceases. If no children or descendants survive, the estate is divided half real and personal subject to payment of her debts, the remainder passing her real estate to her sons and sisters or descendants. Getting divorce would save your property from him.

MISCELLANEOUS.

JOE.—In U. S. in 1914, 743,139 men were employed in coal mining.

UNVALID.—Try phoning department stores in regard to the knitting machine.

ANXIOUS.—Lobelia, medicinal wheat and corn, food; turmeric, plasters for cotton, wool, silk; flax, seed oil; cottonseed oil.

SAM.—There is no sale for moths or other insects found in the house. They are all sent to collectors. Insects are sent to collectors. Insects are sent to collectors. Insects are sent to collectors.

THANKS.—Beautiful and inexpensive decorations for bridal showers are flowers that are in season. Run and get not frothed chocolate, nut sandwiches, fancy cakes and ice cream. They are not necessary. ### A Rich Reward

A young man killed an estate, would not take it because he did not regard himself the rightful heir. Later he falls in love with the other claimant.

By Hester Vaile Deane.

"TUCK, Marcy, the medicine!"

"Is it another bad spell, Mr. Tresham?"

"No, I'm better now," said Gregory Tresham, after taking a deep draught of a cordial the doctor had sent. He sank back among the pillows gasping for breath, but the momentary stimulus had given him strength and the waxy color in his face partly disappeared.

"I had better go for the doctor," suggested Lucius Marcy, but the old man nodded his head negatively.

"It would be of no use," he said. "My hours are pretty near numbered. There is something on my mind, Marcy, and yet I hesitate to speak it to you."

"Surely I will honor whatever you say, insofar as it is of use to me," replied Marcy.

"I know that you have been a faithful honest help to me, Marcy, and that is why it cuts me deep to think that I must do something that may look like ingratitude."

"Speak out, Mr. Tresham," encouraged Marcy. "You owe me no special gratitude. Your kindness and appreciation have repaid me for anything I have done for you out of the ordinary."

"Well, Marcy, I made my will last week."

"I did not know that."

"It is at the lawyer's, and it leaves you everything I have."

"You astonish me," said Marcy sincerely. "I do not deserve such consideration. You have no relatives, Mr. Tresham?"

"None I care for or who care for me, and if I had, I would look first to those who have been by my side and have made my declining years comfortable. No, no, Marcy—for five years you have been a true and loyal servant. More than that, like a son, there is something, there is something."

The Old Man Dies.

THE old man faded, his eyes closed and his hands were anemic. After a few moments he seemed to again get the connection.

"Oh, yes," he spoke low and mumbly. "It was of Hester Vaile I was thinking. Poor lass! I have wronged her! Two years before you came she was my nurse; like an own daughter. She was my dead sister's child. I promised to care for her. She was sensitive, proud spirited; I was high tempered, unjust. I spoke bitter words to her. I taunted her with waiting for my property. She gave me one look of reproach and then she left. I have never seen her since. Then you came and she has become of me to whom I promised protection? I made a will in her favor once, but I changed it in your behalf—in your behalf—in your behalf."

The voice died down, a convulsive shudder crossed the old man's frame. His jaw dropped. In alarm Marcy ran to the nearest neighbor to telephone for the doctor. He was too late. When he returned to the house Gregory Tresham was dead.

Marcy missed him, for he had been a kind and indulgent friend. He had trusted implicitly in Marcy, giving him the entire management of the little farm. The village lawyer came to see Marcy one evening a week later. He announced to his client that he was the sole heir to the farm and that a thousand dollars in the bank had also been left to him.

All these days Marcy had been thinking over the last significant utterance of Gregory Tresham. It was obvious to him that the old man, had his strength lasted longer, would have suggested some change in his will to favor Hester Vaile.

"Mr. Morse," he spoke out now, to the infinite amazement of the lawyer, "can that will be destroyed?"

"The will—destroyed?" repeated the attorney, marvelingly—"why, what do you mean?"

"Well, can it?" persisted Marcy. "Certainly not—it is on record."

Lucius in Search of Hester.

MARCY proceeded to tell Mr. Morse of the incident attending the last moments of Gregory Tresham. He stated definitely that he could not think of accepting the legacy, when unmistakably the dying intention of Mr. Tresham was to leave it to the girl he had driven from his love.

"Nonsense! sentiment! ridiculous!" stormed the hard-headed lawyer. "A whim of his delirium, that about Hester Vaile. You are entitled to what you've got, and, as I am glad to say, for your own good, you cannot change the bequest."

All the same Lucius Marcy quietly went to the city the next day and paid an advance fee to an information bureau to try and locate the long-absent Hester Vaile.

Then he bought a ledger and a day

"If I don't drink milk I get thin, and if I do drink milk I have to walk off all the fat I put on."

Handman story of how the Prince finds her and the rare flower, and the promise made by the fairies is fulfilled.

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

THE poppies and Sweetheart slept and the crooked old woman kept on crooning the funny little verses and slowly crooked chairs and the table and the bed began to change into a bed of nodding poppies, and then the house disappeared and in its place stood more poppies; even the crooked little old woman had disappeared or changed into a poppy, for she no longer could be seen.

By and by a horseman mounted on a beautiful black horse rode through the forest not far from where Sweetheart lay sleeping in the bed of poppies. The horseman had with him four attendants who rode behind him, and every little while they would shade their eyes with their hands and look about.

"I am afraid we will have to return without finding the flower," said the horseman, "and my father will give his kingdom to my stepbrother; but I have done my best to find the flower he asked for."

"Here is a road we did not see, my Prince," said one of the servants. "Let us ride along and see what we find; we have until tomorrow morning to find the flower your father asked for."

So the horseman, who was a Prince, and his servants turned their horses into the road and presently they came upon the big bed of poppies with their nodding and drooping heads.

"Oh, but they will not do," said the Prince. "These look like big buds. My father will not accept these. I am sure."

"But wait, my Prince," said one of his servants, "these buds may open in the morning and you will have the flower you seek."

THE King dared not refuse his son this request, for he had given his promise, and so they were wed while the stepmother, who had tried so hard to get the kingdom for her son, looked on in anger.

Sweetheart and her Prince rode to the cottage of Sweetheart's parents, who were so worried they had not slept, for they were afraid Sweetheart had wandered into the mountains and been lost.

When Sweetheart told her strange story about the goblin and the crooked little woman they all started for the forest to find the spot where the cottage stood, but no path could be found that led to such a place; and by and by they gave it up and returned to the palace, where Sweetheart and her Prince were to live.

The Prince gave to the peasant and his wife a beautiful home, and the King made the peasant and his wife a Lord and Lady.

CHAPTER XLIV.

SEPT. 19.—When Ned came home late last night, just before dinner, he found a letter waiting for him. It was from his father, and in a moment it was in his hand. He turned at the sound of my step, with a face so white and with pits under his eyes so deep and dark that for a second he forgot to breathe. Then I just said, "Ned, darling," and his arms were around me, my head was on his shoulder.

When I was allowed to disengage myself I said cheerfully, "Now, we're going to talk about anything till after dinner. It will be ready in 10 minutes."

We had the jolliest dinner, even though Ned was tired. I had ordered roast duckling, fruit salad and an ice cream which is his special favorite. And I wore my prettiest house gown, a lavender-and-white affair that matched the sweetness in the center of the table.

Someday I felt as if I were welcoming Ned home from a long journey. It was wonderful to smile and talk in the old familiar way, instead of preserving a stiff silence and avoiding each other's glances.

A Heart-to-Heart Talk.

AFTER dinner we went into the living room. I made Ned take the big chair and I sat on the arm of it—with my arm around him.

"Oh, Mollie, I'm glad you've come back to me," he said. "For days I've felt as if I'd lost you. I had no business to speak to you as I did about Dawson, although I'm."

"It was all my fault, dear," I interrupted. "I am so ashamed of myself now. But for a little while I'm afraid I almost believed that to please Mrs. Winthrop you were going to testify against your real convictions. You seemed so sure, at first, of his sanity, and you dwell on the power of that woman's money."

"And I believe I once told you something of the power of her beaux yeux," smiled Ned. "Fie, Mollie, I never supposed you were a jealous woman."

"I'm jealous of nothing except your honor, dear," I told him simply. Then I described the lawyer's visit, and how he had cited the two other eminent physicians who believed Dawson to be insane."

"Yes, we're all agreed," Ned remarked a trifle heavily. "Tell me, Mollie, he then demanded, drawing my head around so that he could look straight into my eyes, 'I've almost done something of which you didn't approve, you wouldn't throw me over, would you?'"

Mrs. Winthrop Is Going Away.

FOR a second the old doubts and fears rushed over me. With a deliberate effort I banished them. "Don't suggest such a thing, dearest," I begged him. "I love you so much that I should always be yours whatever you did. But because there is so much respect and pride and faith in my love,

Seasickness and the Ears.

RECALLING the fact that deaf and dumb people do not become seasick, Mrs. Lewis Fisher and Isaac H. Jones in the New York Medical Journal draw the conclusion that seasickness is an ear phenomenon.

The end organs of equilibrium in the ear canal, the static labyrinth, is disturbed by the unaccustomed movement of the boat.

The effects of seasickness can be duplicated in many cases merely by stimulation of the ear canals by cold douches.

A Remarkable Statement

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"At intervals I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had suffered the same ailments, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as ever I was. I cannot understand why women don't see how escape pain and suffering they would by taking your medicine. I can't praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the insane hospital."—MRS. E. SHELTON, 5857 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old-fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

Infants Need and Should Be Given Plenty of Water

TO some mothers and nurses it seldom occurs that a baby needs any other liquid than its ordinary diet contains. Hence one of the commonest sufferings of infants is that of thirst.

In hot weather particularly this is a cause of a great deal of the digestive troubles from which young children suffer.

Every baby over a month old will be the better for a little plain water between meals. The water should be boiled and then let cool; keep it in a covered vessel and in a clean, cool place. Scald the vessel before putting in the drinking water.

A teaspoonful of cold or slightly warmed water may be given several times a day to a child of 1 or 2 months; this quantity may be increased to two teaspoonfuls as the child grows older.

For children of an age when they have begun to run about, a good supply of water is absolutely essential. And as they grow older there should be no stinting of liquid. In summer—and, indeed, throughout the year—a child of 3 or 4 years, and thence onward, should be let drink as much plain water as it desires.

Take care that the water is pure, that it is not too cold or very cold, that the child does not drink immediately after violent exercise or when over-heated, that he does not gulp down a large quantity rapidly; and, having taken these precautions, let him drink freely whenever he wants to drink.

Thomas Lynch

BY a strange trick of fate, Thomas Lynch, youngest signer of the Declaration of Independence, was also the first one of these men to die.

Lynch was born in Prince George Parish, S. C., Aug. 5, 1749. He was only 28 when the Congress declared the independence of the colonies. Ill health compelled him to leave Congress soon afterward, and near the close of 1779 he embarked on a vessel, intending to go to Europe for the benefit of his health. The ship on which he sailed was never heard of afterward and the fate of the youngest of the "signers" remains a mystery. It is supposed, of course, that the ship sank and that Lynch and all on board were drowned; but there were rumors that it was blown out of its course in a storm and wrecked on a lonely island of the West Indies and that some of the passengers and crew were saved. Thomas Lynch was educated in England and was the son of a wealthy South Carolina planter.
